where getting there meets getting it right

For nearly a century, SPX has been right on the road, developing tools, service and products for our planet's ever expanding transportation infrastructure. Today, we're collaborating with the world's largest auto makers on solutions that will change the future, including innovative tools for hybrid and electric cars and technology to lower emissions. Scan the Quick Response Code above or visit www.spx.com/transportation to learn how our diagnostic tools and service solutions are keeping this mobile world moving.
